

MILLERSBURG ITEMS.

The class in Expression at M. M. L., assisted by Misses Julia Carpenter and Martha Smith, gave a two act comedy Monday night at the drill hall entitled "Higher Education." It was full of humor from beginning to finish and kept the audience convulsed with laughter from the time the curtain went up until it went down on the last act. The characters were all well selected and everyone seemed to be at home in his or her part. It was one of the best pieces ever put on by Mrs. Best and all of her work in the past has been more than good. This, too, in view of the fact that the work was put on with less than two weeks' preparation. The musical program was also good. The piano duet by Capt. Freas and Miss Mary Bingham, the latter a pupil of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, the vocal solo by Mrs. Hanger, of Richmond, and the mandolin solo by Cadet Snow all deserve mention. At the close of the entertainment an informal reception was held on the verandas and in the library of the main building, which the vast audience attended.

Tuesday morning at 10:30 the commencement exercises were held. The audience was good and at the appointed time the faculty and class of 1911 consisting of six cadets, wended their way to the stage. The musical program was good, especially the piano solo of Miss Mary Bingham and the vocal solo of Capt. Howard Freas. The orations were delivered by Cadet Jacoby, of Hutchison, second honor man, and Cadet Freas, of Baltimore, Md., first honor man. These orations were far above the ordinary and having been coached by Mrs. Best they were "tripped" of much of the school boy features which usually attend such occasions. Cadet Freas proved himself not only a speaker but an orator and we see before him a bright future.

The baccalaureate address was delivered by Prof. Melcher, of State University, of Lexington. It was plain and practical, full of thought and addresses to the class and cadets. Dealing along the line of man, his possibilities, and his education, he exemplified the remarks by keeping before the audience two educators showing that they had devoted their whole life to them and pointing out great men that now occupy high places, who began their education under their watch-care. At the close of his address Col. Best in a few appropriate remarks delivered the diplomas to the following cadets: Freas, Baltimore, Md., first honor man, Jacoby, Hutchison, Ky., second honor man, Snow, Tampa, Fla.,

Davis, Maysville, Curry, Myers and Barton, Millersburg, after which the honor roll was read. At 12:15 a luncheon was taken until September 13, this closing one of the most successful years in the history of the institution, despite disadvantages in sickness under which it was compelled to labor. Cadet J. B. Marcum of Jackson, the youngest boy in school, and who is but nine years of age, received an average for the year of more than 90 per cent. He is an unusually brilliant student, especially for his years, and is too young to wear the uniform.

We Believe In Our Furniture

We like to have it looked at.
Like to explain why this and that is thus and so.

There is something in artistic designs and polished surfaces that appeals to most people.

That is the reason why we adorn our homes with as fine specimens of the furniture maker's art as we can afford.

To housekeepers:

If there's furniture to buy, don't think of choosing the bargain without talking to us about it.
